

Research on Nature

Nature comprises all living and non-living things on Earth.

It includes plants, animals, rivers, mountains, and forests.

Understanding natural ecosystems is vital for sustainability.

Climate change directly impacts natural biodiversity.

Nature comprises all living and non-living things on Earth.
It includes plants, animals, rivers, mountains, and forests.
Understanding natural ecosystems is vital for sustainability.
Climate change directly impacts natural biodiversity.

Nature comprises all living and non-living things on Earth.
It includes plants, animals, rivers, mountains, and forests.
Understanding natural ecosystems is vital for sustainability.
Climate change directly impacts natural biodiversity.

Nature comprises all living and non-living things on Earth.
It includes plants, animals, rivers, mountains, and forests.
Understanding natural ecosystems is vital for sustainability.
Climate change directly impacts natural biodiversity.